

Driver Competency Observation & Assessment

Program Description:

ADI's Driver Observations are designed to provide key stakeholders with an understanding of a person's driving standard and behaviours. These sessions, design to verify competency, can be used for a variety of reasons; pre-employment assessments prior to allocating a company vehicle, suitability for a job role, identifying remedial training requirements etc.

Driver Observations/ assessments are a perfect opportunity for employers or managers to determine what level their staff are at before committing to a full training program, this aids in the process of identifying "high risk" staff members and allowance for greater forward planning and training strategies required.

Sessions typically run for 2 hours and can be conducted anywhere in Australia.
